SITUATION SUMMARY

Oroville Dam Auxiliary Spillway Incident

On 02/12/17 at 1603 hours the California State Warning Center (CSWC) received notification from the Department of Water Resources (DWR) automated line that the Oroville Dam was in failure status due to extreme scouring of the auxiliary spillway. The CSWC are made notifications according to SOP. All down stream warning points were notified.

Per the DWR Flood Operations Center and California Data Exchange Center (CDEC) as of 02/23/17 at 1800 hours:

- Current releases from Oroville Dam (50,200 cfs) are within the downstream channel capacities in the Feather River.
- Inflows are at 33,000 cfs.
- The lake elevation has risen to 850.35 feet. As result, no water is flowing over the auxiliary emergency spillway.
- The plan to prevent further erosion utilizes trucks, helicopters, and hand crews to move large rocks and gravel to fill holes in the emergency spillway.

Levee Breach

Santa Clara County

- The Coyote Creek began to overtop its banks in multiple locations beginning at 1000 hours on 2/21/17. The City and Santa Clara Valley Water District had been actively monitoring the creek since Sunday with the incoming storm system but weather and flow predictions did not indicate the Coyote Creek would exceed capacity. The City received information from the Water District that the creek had 7,400 CFS moving capacity, however the overtopping started occurring in multiple areas upon reaching 5,000 CFS, and the flooding was unexpected and prevented the City from issuing warnings to the residents in the area.
- The Cal OES Law Enforcement Emergency Operations Center advised that the mandatory evacuations that were in place have been reduced

Don Pedro Reservoir, Tuolumne County

Per the Cal OES Inland Duty Officer (IDO):

- Turlock Irrigation District has implemented the Don Pedro Reservoir EAP for high flow conditions. TID continues to release 16,000 cfs from New Don Pedro Reservoir and will adjust if conditions warrant.
- The upper Tuolumne River combines with Dry Creek flows prior to reaching central Modesto. Flooding is not expected to impact the Modesto Waste Water Treatment Plant.
- Staff is conducting daily conference calls with reservoir operators to optimize reservoir coordination and minimize peak flood flows.
  - Bond Flat Road is now closed. Due to substantial changes in weather, the Turlock Irrigation District closed Bonds Flat Rd between La Grange Rd and Highway 132.
  - Electricity will be shut off at the rate of 8 hours ahead of the water coming down the Tuolumne River.
  - Two Swift Water rescue teams have been deployed to Stanislaus County
  - Merced OA, Stanislaus OA, and Tuolumne OA are working together and establishing mutual aid if needed and coordinating a JIC

Levee Breach

San Joaquin County

On 02/20/17 at 1945 hours, the California State Warning Center (CSWC) received notification from the National Weather Service advising a levee break occurred on the right bank of the San Joaquin River on Road 2075, southwest of Manteca, San Joaquin County.

- Per the Law Duty Officer (LDO), evacuations were in place for 521 homes, 1,421 people.
- Incident occurred south of Highway 120 and West of Manteca Road about 2 miles west of Airport Way and Perrin Road.
- Breach is approximately 5-10 feet wide. DWR's Incident Team 5 responded and provided flood fight efforts.
- As of 2100 hours 2/20/17, the levee breach was plugged with rock and soil.
- DWR's Incident Team 5 is on scene and worked through Department of Energy's (DOE) contract for construction to flood fight the breach.
- The breach has been closed and rock protection was placed on the waterside to stabilize the berm.
- Two new sites with erosions were discovered by DWR estimated to be approximately 500 feet long (Road 2058 and Road 2075). RD 2058 is the most critical one. DWR has informed the county which they will be contacting the levee maintain agencies. Currently, the county has not requested anything from state so far.

Colusa County Levee Breach

Levee breach at the 2047 at Lurline. No evacuations at this time.

- Levee breach assessment was completed by DWR and it was determined that the muscle wall is not the best method. The County is working with their Public Works Department and will be placing trench plates (8 x 12) inside the water side of concrete culvert on Highway 20 which is approximately 45 feet wide.
- After the trenches are placed, they will place sandbags in front of them. This should eliminate the backflow areas on Highway 20. If this doesn't work, the trigger point will be when the water gets close to one foot in the elevated old railroad bed.

Cal OES Inland Region

Shelters

Butte County

Key Points

Overview: Conditions will continue to improve today through Friday. A weak weather system will move through California starting Saturday with rain and mountain snow likely. The latest weather models continue to trend weaker with each run, increasing our confidence that this storm will be less impactful than previous AR events in terms of precipitation and winds.

Flooding: Creeks, rivers, streams, some mainstem rivers, reservoirs and the entire water system has been significantly stressed over the past 6-7 weeks. The drier weather expected through Friday is welcome, but it will take some time yet before waters decrease enough to no longer be of concern. Roads, hillsides, and steep grades all remain vulnerable to settling with rock and mud slides possible.

Winds: Winds could be strong and gusty in areas starting Saturday and continuing into next week. Wind speeds do not look as strong as recent storms. However, saturated soils have weakened tree roots and downed trees/powerlines remain a concern.

Key Hazards

Today-Friday

- Much drier and less wind. No new weather or water hazards expected at this time.

Saturday-Monday

- Two cold, but weaker systems compared to earlier in the week, will move over the region.
- These systems may cause just enough snow for mountain travel delays.
- Rainfall amounts will generally be light.

Tuesday-Wednesday

- Drier once again with streams, creeks, and some mainstem rivers running high. No new weather or water hazards expected at this time.

- Power was restored to the radio circuit and service was restored. AT&T made successful 911 test calls from each switch.

WEATHER OF CONCERN

Weather of Concern

- Cool northerly flow will bring cool morning temperatures over the next couple of days. Weather disturbances dropping down from the north will bring a couple of round of relatively light precipitation over the weekend and early next week. The cold air will make for low snow levels down to 1000 feet over Shasta county and 2000 – 2500 feet over the northern Sierra.

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

Today there will be a rather chilly northerly flow over Northern California with some continued cloudiness. Clouds will persist over the region under this pattern today for some areas. A few showers are likely, but not very many and mostly this afternoon. There will still be a chance of a few thunderstorms too. A rather cold low will be moving south just off the Pacific NW coast Friday, and then it will drop south off the Northern California coast Saturday. Some rain and snow are expected to develop in our NW areas Friday then across the northern and eastern areas Friday night into Saturday morning. Snow levels with significant accumulations from this system will drop to around 1500 ft in the north and about 2500 ft in the south. Later Saturday, conditions will become drier during a break between systems as a small high pressure ridge moves into the region briefly. Sunday another system will arrive from the north with more precipitation for the region into Monday, especially in the north and eastern mountain areas. This system will be warmer so it will have higher snow levels. Cloudiness and possibly some showers will linger over the region Tuesday, but by the middle of next week, dry, mostly sunny and much warmer conditions under a high pressure ridge are expected over our region.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Isolated snow showers will continue across some mountain locations through this evening due to leftover moisture and up slope flow. West to northwest winds of 20 to 30 mph with gusts to 50 mph will continue to surface across the wind prone mountain and desert areas through Friday night as strong surface high pressure sits off the Pacific Northwest Coast. A couple of Pacific storms will drop down the West Coast switching the strong winds across the mountains and deserts to between south and west Saturday through Monday. These two storms will bring showers to the region at times Saturday evening through Monday night. Temperatures will be 5 to 10 degrees below normal through Monday, with 30s to low 40s across the mountains and 50s to low 60s in the valleys. A ridge of high pressure will build into California from the Pacific Ocean bringing a slow warming and drying trend to the region Tuesday through the end of next week.
